

REMANDS CASE FOR NEW TRIAL

Supreme Court Reverses Decision in the Strinker Case, Holding That Lower Court Erred in Directing Verdict for Defendant

Holding that the court erred in withdrawing from the jury the right to determine the cause of the accident, and in directing a verdict for the defendant company, the supreme court yesterday reversed the decision of the superior court of Maricopa county in the case of Strinker vs. the Ray Consolidated Mining Company, and remanded the case for a new trial.

Strinker, who was employed as foreman of a gang of men doing steel construction work at the company's plant, was injured on January 23, 1912, by the falling of a 1900 lb. steel girder, which was being hoisted into place on top of an ore bin. As a result of the injuries sustained at that time, he was crippled for life, losing one leg, and sustaining other serious injuries. He sued the mining company for $20,000 damages, and the case was heard here before Judge Phillips on a change of venue from Pinal county.

As the accident occurred prior to statehood and before the abrogation of the fellow servant law, the court held that the engineer in charge of the hoist at the time of the accident was a fellow servant with the plaintiff. In the opinion of the supreme court the rule adopted by the territorial supreme court was the Illinois or departmental rule, and in this connection quotes from the opinion rendered in the Hobson case as follows:

"The servants of the same master to be co-employees so as to exempt the master from liability on account of injuries sustained by one, resulting from negligence of the other, must be directly co-operating with each other in a particular business, i. e., the same line of employment, or their usual duties must bring them into habitual association, so that they may exercise a mutual influence upon each other promissive of proper caution."

In the opinion rendered yesterday, the question as to whether Strinker and the engineer in charge of the hoisting engine at the time of the injury were fellow servants was one for the jury to determine.

The case is one that has attracted considerable attention throughout the state, and the decision of the supreme court has been awaited with much interest.

BARTLETT IS PUZZLED

Doesn't Understand How Report of Karluk Disaster Originated

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH] NOME, July 9.—Captain Robert Bartlett, of the Canadian Arctic exploration expedition positively denied that he had sent any report to the minister of marine at Ottawa which could be construed as indicating that eight men of the Karluk's crew are missing and are probably lost.

Captain Bartlett said he was at a loss to understand how the Canadian officials obtained information which they gave out as coming from him, and said that so far as he knew all the men who were on the Karluk when she was wrecked in the Arctic ice last February were safe on Wrangell island. Bartlett called the minister of marine at Ottawa asking for an explanation of the statement that he had reported eight of the Karluk's men were lost.

There is no luxury to baby or mother like a Sidway. So gently suspended is the seat of the carriage by means of the patented Sidway long-leaf suspension springs that even on a very rough road, the baby will receive no jar or shock. The Sidway is the classiest carriage ever made, yet costs no more than many unguaranteed carriages.

HWAN HSING COMING

Hopes to Create Interest in New Chinese Revolution

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH] HONOLULU, July 9.—Enroute to the United States and Europe to stir up interest in the new revolutionary movement in China, Hwan Hsing, minister of war in Dr. Sun Yat Sen's revolutionary cabinet, arrived in Hawaii with two members of Sun's military staff and his secretary. An enthusiastic mass meeting of Chinese welcomed him to Honolulu.

Hwan Hsing said tonight: "The purpose of our trip is to lay before the world the exact facts as to conditions in China, which are worse under Yuan Shi Kai than they were under Manchuk rule. The populace of China is ready to overthrow the present government, but the money necessary to such a movement is lacking." When denied that the activities of White Wolf, the notorious bandit, have any connection with Dr. Sun's revolutionary propaganda.

STRIKERS TO RETURN

Will Resume Work in Westinghouse Plants on Monday

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH] PITTSBURGH, July 9.—The strike of Westinghouse employees in Turtle Creek valley is over, and workers will return to three plants on Monday. At mass meetings held by 4,000 strikers tonight it was voted almost unanimously to return to work, and accept offers of better working conditions made several weeks ago by each of the industries.

The vote affects 10,000 men and women. The workers will march to the Westinghouse plants in a body, and will ask to be taken back. It is expected that the request will be granted. Ending as suddenly as it began, on June 5, the strike was noted throughout for the absence of disorder and lawlessness.

VOLCANOES IN ACTION

On Alaskan Coast Mountains Spit Fire and Lava

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH] SEWARD, Alaska, July 9.—All the volcanoes along the Alaskan peninsula west of Seward to the Aleutian islands are in action, according to a report brought here today by Captain McMullen of the steamship Dirigo, which arrived from Dutch harbor. McMullen said that Mount Katmai, the great volcano on the mainland across from Shelikof island, was throwing out great volumes of sulphur-laden smoke, and the sea, he said, was discolored by sulphur dust and pumice for a distance of 100 miles on either side of the volcano. Mount Shishaldin and Mount Pavlov, the most active volcano in the Aleutian islands, were smoking when the Dirigo passed them.

TO PREVENT DISHONEST ADS.

New York Merchants Try to Stop Misrepresentation

The subject of fraudulent advertising and its prevention among merchants on Fifth avenue was discussed at a luncheon of the Fifth Avenue Association the other day. The association heard an informal report of the work of its vigilance committee, organized about three months ago to eradicate dishonest advertising from the business element that does its work on the city's finest retail business avenue.

Its method is to call the attention of advertisers to any advertisements, whether window, sign or newspaper announcements, that have been reported as objectionable by reason of untruth or misrepresentation or some violation of good taste, and to request that the objectionable features be eliminated. In most of the cases, it was said, the objectionable advertisements were at once remedied by the offending merchants, and in only one instance so far has it become neces-
